Having second-hand clothing feels good.
I am aware of the importance of reusing old clothing.
The presence of sustainable clothing in my environment affects my feelings and emotions.
I can easily find words to describe my feelings when I am buying new clothing.
I can at least briefly explain how an increase in fast fashion would affect my life.
I would prevent the unnecessary purchase of clothing, even if I was criticized or ridiculed by those around me for doing so.

Doing the right thing in endorsing the reuse of clothing is extremely important to me.
I would have no problem contacting public authorities (mayor, health officer, principal) and asking them about the possibilities of second-hand clothing events.
I am able to speak publicly about my views because in this way I can motivate others to make educated clothing purchases.
Despite rejection from those around me, I would be able to persevere in my efforts to have sustainable or second-hand clothing.
I believe that my efforts to protect the environment would make a difference.
I would be able to make an effort to not buy fast fashion, even if I sometimes don't feel like it.
I am proud that I take part in protecting the environment.
It is important for me to have up-to-date information on the emissions caused by my clothing purchases.
Even if I were to be the only one in my surroundings, I want to reuse old clothes.
I like to learn new things, even if they are unfamiliar to me.
I can think for a long time and look for the necessary information to solve a problem.
I like to listen to other people's opinions and discuss with them, even if I don't always agree with them.
I'm interested in how someone else solved a similar problem.

I think about other options before I choose a solution.
I can be an example for others.
I try to look for ways to improve what we do.
I treat others with dignity and respect their opinions and motivations.
I can explain the reasoning behind my decisions.
I support cooperation and ensure that everyone in a team wants to achieve a common goal.
I feel motivated to help the environment in my spare time.
I feel responsible not only for myself but also for others and the environment.
If I see irresponsible behavior, I try to address it.
I can change my views and behavior if it helps the environment.
I can assess how my actions affect the environment and my community.
